Dear Bebe -

I hope the Times (LA? NY?) will print your letter. It is long, though, & they all want pith or the expense of detailed logic.

I think I've figured it all out: somewhere (after Ford) the public decided (oh, democracy!) that a president "should be no better" than the voter. No brighter, I guess; no more honest; no more a visionary. (Clinton sure was brighter but he compromised his value away.

Your connecting the snakes was on target. Keep your doors closed!

Don't let Clinton convince his chemistry; he is no
