Dear Bebe -

The wifelet was correct - Brantly means that as a cynic (neophyte), or so he told me.

The play will be transferring to Broadway in the fall (all being equal) with the same set, director & cast, so you'll have chance to see it there.

I think Clinton / Obama as a ticket is the wisest way to go (if he will agree [ & if he has the country's best interests foremost he will. Too many people would vote against a woman & we know about recent anti-black sentiment, but the combo might be too exciting for people to resist.

Of course, some would (most probably) vote for Obama against McCain (if he gets more specific) but I still fear they'll kill him.

I look forward to seeing you healthy self(s) in March
Love,

Edward
