Direct quote of Floyd McKissick as given in conversation at this time when the nations are raging around the idea of "black power" we want to be sure that our friends understand what "black power" means. "Black power" seeks to unite the black voice in both racial pride, & in the tradition of our multi-racial nation. Just as the Irish sought a political base, as labor joined in unions, so the Afro-American must seek to change his life conditions

(P) "Black power" is not black supremacy. "Black power" does not exclude white from any segment of the negro revolution — it welcomes them, not on past fraternalistic terms, but with full recognition of the role the negro must play in the struggle for total equality.
"Black Power" advocates political & economic competition within the framework of our democracy. "Black Power" seeks to change the conditions which cause alienation, despair, & ultimately riots.
"Black power" is a new expression of an old concept. It speaks directly to black people who have not as yet really been reached by all the efforts & appeals of the civil rights movement.

We at CORE believe that "black power" is entirely consistent with our philosophy & our goals.
